Bosworth Remains Rogue Champion

Gets First, Third and Fifth Games From Ex-Champion

Clark—Final Game Decided Tie Both in Tournament and the Extra Series.

When Champion Bosworth and ex-Champion Clark got busy on Monday morning it took but two hours and a half to decide the national champion at rogue for another year. Bosworth had the first game of the additional series of five tucked away on the right side, but Clark opened the week strong and won his game from Bosworth. This alternation continued throughout the morning Bosworth getting the fifth and deciding game and winning the tournament honor. The play was watched by an interested gathering, many of the experts having stayed over for that purpose.

The first game Monday morning saw the balls change hands but once, as Clark kept Bosworth so securely tied up that he was unable to get a shot.
He made a very close try at a corner, but failed. Bosworth had the balls at the start, but he missed on his arch and Clark by a shot the length of the field gained them and thereafter everything was his way. Bosworth not getting an arch shot, and Clark retained them on a corner and finished the game, being again one game to the good and needing one for the championship.

Bosworth had trouble getting his arches and the next game saw Clark getting the balls in the same way as in the previous game. Clark had got as far as the basket when he missed and Bosworth made a hit but failed to make his arch, and Clark tried a corner but missed. Bosworth got as far as the basket, then he missed, but Clark could not hit, and Bosworth's second ball was taken as far as the center arches when he again missed.
Clark missed an open shot, and Bosworth made a decided gain. Clark got the balls when Bosworth got hung in the seventh arch, but Bosworth retained them on a corner and finished the game, being again one game to
championship.

The third game of the morning was a perfect one and was finished in a half-hour. Clark got the balls at the opening and tied up Bosworth. Bosworth made a home run. Bosworth was unable to hit on the corner and Clark made another home run. Bosworth made the game, thus tying the games again.
The final game, for the deciding of the championship, was one of many chances, and the play was watched by several thousands of people. Bosworth made a very close try at a corner, but failed. Bosworth made a home run. Bosworth made the game, thus tying the games again.

GOODWIN RECEPTION.

About Fifty Meet Candidate for Republican Nomination for Governor at Buckingham Memorial.

Charles A. Goodwin of Hartford, candidate for the nomination for governor of Connecticut, arrived in Norwich about 3.30 p. m. Monday afternoon and at about 8.30 o'clock in the evening Zebulon R. Robbins introduced him to a gathering of about 50 republicans at the Buckingham Memorial. Mr.
Goodwin spoke for about ten minutes, outlining the two principal matters of the campaign. He said that the government is in a very bad way and that the people must turn their attention to the nomination for governor and elect a man who will do the best for the state.

In opening Mr. Goodwin expressed his appreciation of the opportunity to meet the citizens of Norwich. He referred to the personal acquaintance he had with the people of the state and said he believed it would be a great help if he is nominated and elected, for he would be in close touch with the people. He said that he would get around among the people, to see them, to hear them and know what they want. He said that he would get the results by pitching in an office at a telephone.

Two years ago it was my privilege to be with George L. Lilley and to work with him in the preparation of his inaugural address as governor of the state. I had an opportunity to see from the inside just what George Lilley wanted to do. In the very heart of the campaign he had but one thought, to carry out what he had promised to do.
It was my privilege to be associated with a man who was trying to bring about some great changes in our state. When our state was a colony life was simple and there were no such conditions as obtain today. But that simple form of government has come right down to us in 1910, while the business life of today is just as different from that in colonial times as the government is similar. Then Mr. Goodwin described the public utilities bill, which will put into technical question of this intricate hands of a small body of trained men, and the employers' liability bill, which will protect the employees in a manner far different than in the past.

These two matters were ones that Governor Lilley seemed most important. I became interested in them and asked George Lilley what he hoped would be possible for some man to represent him in these matters and also the large body of citizens who have been interested in the campaign. This is the reason Mr. Goodwin came out in this campaign.

There was applause for Mr. Goodwin at the close of his address and then the reception committee, Grosvenor Ely, Frederic W. Cary, William R. Young, Elyer Crutcher and Roy Robinson, all brought him to the hotel. Mr. Goodwin said to it that everyone had an opportunity of shaking hands with the candidate.

Mr. Goodwin left Norwich later in the evening, having been at the Wau-regan house. He came to Norwich unaccompanied.

Cider, Cheese, Pie, Checkers.

The Litchfield Engineer says: "The principal business of our citizens now, the real business, I mean, is searching for gold and hills for blackberries and huckleberries which they can in large quantities for use next winter.
A pitcher of cider, a pound of cheese, a loaf of bread, a pie and a game of checkers, when the thermometer is ten below and the roads impassable, is just about the thing for excellence."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous membrane of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or a humming in the ears. When it is entirely closed deafness is the result.
In the treatment of deafness the membrane of the Eustachian tube must be restored to its normal condition. This will be done by the use of the "Eustachian Cure," which is nothing but a natural condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for a cure of deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
